Welcome To Harvard!

We are thrilled to introduce you to and to showcase the transformative and exemplary experience that awaits you as a student-athlete at Harvard.

With our long history in lacrosse as a foundation, combined with Harvard's commitment to excellence in athletics, our world-class facilities and our incomparable academic reputation, we are confident that you and many other student-athletes who aspire to be great as players, teammates, thinkers and creators will see Harvard as the ultimate & perfect combination of academics & athletics.

The following pages will expose you to the core elements of the Harvard Lacrosse Experience academically, athletically, socially and so much more. We hope you can spend some time clicking through the sites, using this web-based document as your digital tour guide, so that when you arrive in Cambridge you will have some sense of the mission of Harvard, the physical layout of its historic campus and start to envision yourself as a student & athlete at Harvard.

Your experience at Harvard will encompass both sides of the Charles River, connected by a beautiful bridge that connects the residential/academic with the athletic. This bridge symbolizes the marriage of the core pieces of your Harvard experience and represents how tightly connected this world will be for our student-athletes. Our current players will play a central role and gateway to your son's visit and represent the best and brightest and a true model of the student-athlete experience.

Our staff, assembled in July 2019, has worked to create a national powerhouse as evidenced by our historic NCAA Tournament 2022 season and are poised to show you all that Harvard has to offer for the elite athletes who want to be great on the field and off. ### Harvard Stadium

Built in 1903, Harvard Stadium was the world's first massive reinforced concrete structure and the first large permanent arena for American college athletics. It is one of four stadiums in the country designated as a national historic landmark.

Jordan Field

Jordan Field is our 2nd Field Turf surface and the site of many Harvard Lacrosse practices and games. Re-turfed in 2021, Jordan Field has an amazing atmosphere as fans surround the fence, providing an electric game experience.

Palmer Dixon

Palmer Dixon (PD) is our 24,000 square foot strength and conditioning facility. It features 24 Olympic training stations allowing our entire team to train together. The racks line the perimeter of a 45 yards turf surface, used for speed and agility training.

Dillon Field House

Dillon Field House is the home of Harvard Lacrosse. On the 3rd floor, we have our locker room, nutrition area and coaches offices. The 2nd Floor is home to Dillon Lounge where we often watch film or meet our families for post-game tailgates. Our athletic training room is located on the first floor.

The House System

The Houses, a cornerstone of the Harvard experience, serve as the foundation for residential life. Ninety-eight percent of all undergraduates live in one of the twelve houses. Featuring dining halls, common spaces, academic facilities, and cultural activities, the Houses forge a link between living and learning while emphasizing collaboration. Following your first year at Harvard, you and up to eight friends create a 'blocking group'. Once assembled, your blocking group enters the housing lottery where your housing for sophomore through senior year is chosen.

A source of great pride and historical significance, the Houses are embedded in the fabric of Harvard.

The Harvard Academic Experience

Harvard University allows student-athletes to intellectually explore and develop in an unequivocally unique setting.

Concentrations

As a liberal arts college, Harvard offers over 3,500 diverse courses from 50 undergraduate fields of study. Each student is required to declare a 'concentration' in order to graduate, Harvard's version of a major. The concentrations range from Economics, Government, and History, to Slavic Language and Literature, and Folklore and Mythology. Regardless of your academic interests, there are world-class resources, professors, and classes at your disposal. Though Harvard as liberal arts institution does not offer an undergraduate business program, our players have the opportunity to take many business classes (finance, accounting, management, etc) at MIT (less than 1 mile from Harvard) that prepare them for the business world.

General Education Requirement

The Program in General Education is the foundation of the Harvard College Curriculum. Prior to graduation, students are required to take one course in each of four perspectives: Aesthetics and Culture; Ethics and Civics; Histories, Societies, and Individuals; as well as Science & Technology in Society.

Distribution Requirement

The distribution requirement exposes students to the diversity of the scholarly disciplines at Harvard. Prior to graduation, students must complete a course in the three main divisions of the Faculty of Arts and Science: Arts and Humanities; Social Science; and Science, Engineering and Applied Science.

Quantitative Reason with Data Requirement

This requirement enables students to critically think about data, and how it is employed in fields of study throughout Harvard. All students must complete one course in Quantitative Reasoning with Data.

Language Requirement

Students must meet a language requirement in a language other than English that is taught at Harvard. This can be accomplished in one year, or two semesters.

Academic Support

Academic Resource Center

From academic counseling, free tutoring, reading workshops, and more, our Academic Resource Center ensures that every student has the resources they need to be successful while attending Harvard.

First-Year Academic Support

First-Year students are well supported by a network of residential and academic advisers whose sole job is to ensure a smooth transition. From Proctors, Resident Deans, and Peer Advising Fellows, First-Year students have support systems woven into their experience both living in their entryways, and surrounding them on campus.

House Tutors

Resident Tutors are valued and important members of the staff of Harvard College who play a vital role in the residential and educational life of undergraduates. Living in a House for sophomore through senior year, academic help and support is literally down the hall at all times.

Concentration Tutors

In addition to House Tutors, each concentration has a specific group of tutors designated to support students who are in need. Each student is assigned an advisor following their concentration declaration. In addition concentrations have specific resident tutors who live in the Houses. Concentrations have non-resident tutors available as well.

Career Development Services

Office of Career Service	The Office of Career Services (OCS) has a full-time staff that is dedicated to helping students prepare for, and acquire highly competitive internships and jobs. OCS Events	Harvard OCS puts on weekly events, and career fairs to help our students connect with, and investigate different industries.
Harvard Varsity Club Database/Events	With over 30,000 active members, student-athletes can search the database by industry, location, or sport. With built-in messaging capabilities, our DataBase connects our student-athletes to our world-class alumni instantly. Harvard Varsity Club hosts athletic specific events, to connect our student-athletes to employers who are specifically looking to employ athletes. HVC also posts jobs solely available to student-athletes here at Harvard.
HLX LinkedIn Communities	Harvard Lacrosse has two distinct LinkedIn groups. Our public group The Harvard Men's Lacrosse Community is open to any supporter of our program. Our private group, 1881 Alumni Network is open only to current players, HLX Alumni, and past and current parents.
